

CASEY

Well, I guess if they don't, maybe you and I could be soul mates.

JACK

Us?

CASEY

Well, that would make sense, wouldn't it?

JACK

I don't get think that soul mates are something that make sense, Case. I think, if it's true at all, it's just something you feel, something you know. I mean, do you feel like we've known each other before? You know, in some past life?

CASEY

I don't think I have a very good intuition for past lives. I'm not even sure I believe in them.

JACK

Hmm. I think we could have been.

CASEY

Really? How come?

JACK

I don't know. I just feel like we've known each other longer than we have.

CASEY

Huh. Well, that would be kind of weird. (beat) You think we were best friends then, too?

JACK

I don't know. Probably.

CASEY

Hey, maybe we were two of the Marx brothers! You would have been Groucho. Ooh, I want to have been Zeppo!

JACK

You can't choose who you want to have been in your past life, Case. Hey, we better clear out of here and get over to the anime festival. The next DJ's coming in. Let's go call Arlene.
